

Monday, 3 February 2014.

Good afternoon [my scribe], this is your Heavenly Father Jesus.

I want you to speak about what you are experiencing to your friends and relatives. It is my will that you spread these writings amongst your friends and relatives initially, then to a wider group of people as time goes by as you develop into the scribe that I want you to be, to spread my love and teachings in this manner for the world to see, that my holy words in teachings shall not stop, for I want my teachings to be known by all of mankind, not just for a select few of my children.

I wish you to spread my word far and wide on the internet and in other ways that I will show you as time goes by. All of my children in the world need to know that there is only a very limited time before I shall make substantial changes on the earth plane. Changes which will affect all of mankind. In these writings through my scribe, my children on the earth plane will come to understand what these changes will be in advance of them taking place and the reasons why each change has been introduced to the earth plane. In this way, my children that read these messages will be able to tell others why these events are occurring and they will be able to teach others to turn to me, their loving Heavenly Father Jesus for support and guidance in the difficult times to come.

My children who read these messages, do not be afraid to tell others that it is truly I their loving creator who has inspired my scribe to write these messages on my behalf. I want you all to tell people that the time is truly short in which my children on the earth plane will be able to change the direction of their lives by turning to me in loving prayer and asking for my love and guidance in their daily lives.

I truly want to help all of my children in my Great Plan of Salvation, but they first must turn me and ask me to do it, for I cannot interfere with their freedom of choice. This is something that I wish all my children who read these messages to know and be aware of. It is also something that I would like you to teach others about. If you wish, you may pray to me in your hearts and I will inspire you, I will show you how you can spread my teachings to a mankind that has lost its way. A mankind that yearns for its Good Shepherd to return to show them the way, to light up the one true path for them in this world which is full of darkness.

Do not despair, my children, for help is at hand. Your loving Father has not forsaken you. He cares about each and every one of you personally. I will not give up until each and every last child of my created children is safely gathered back in my eternal barn in my heavens where I can continue to love, guide and teach them eternally. For I wish my children to be happy, to be at peace and content in their lives. The adversary wishes only to deceive my children with false promises of living the so called, "good life" on this earth. He only wishes to bring my children death and destruction for he is truly the enemy of all mankind. Pray to me my children for strength so that you will not be deceived as he and his followers are carrying out their plan to deceive mankind with erroneous perceptions that mankind can become Gods on this earth plane. This is a great lie because there is only one God, me your Heavenly Father Jesus that is providing you with these teachings through my loyal scribe. It is only me that can provide you with love and peace and contentment in the chaos of this world.

My adversary seeks to take as many of my children away from me in the vain hope that he will win the age old battle that he has fought with me. He will soon see that there is no else besides me that can provide him with his own salvation. He will come to see that all his efforts against me and my children have been in vain for I am determined to win back each and every one of my children that he and his followers have been working towards turning away from me.

I am a loving Father who is extremely patient. I am prepared to wait for eternities until each and every last created child of mine returns back home to me in my loving arms. For I am the alpha and omega, the beginning and the end. I will not forsake any of my children.

I will not allow the adversary to continue to deceive my children for long. Through my scribe, I will outline many things that will come to pass and the readers of these messages will come to understand that they have a loving Father who cares for them and only wants what is best for them. I will not rest until each and every one of my created children has returned safely home to me in my heavens. It will be at this point that the adversary will come to see that all his efforts have been futile and he will turn to me and ask for forgiveness. He will then, as the original Prodigal Son, be awaited by his Heavenly Father in heaven where he can return to our celestial family to love and serve me and his fellow created beings eternally – Amen.

[My scribe], go back to work now as this is all that I wish that you write on this day.

Go in peace and love my son – Amen.