Good evening [scribe], this is your Heavenly Father Jesus that is here with you my [scribe], here in your heart giving you these loving words for your brothers and sisters.

I wish to guide all of you my dear children to understand the truth about your origin so that you in turn can share it with other brothers and sisters along your respective paths in your life journey. You my dears ones are a light shining in the darkness of a world that wants to release itself from that darkness and move up into the light of my eternal love light.

The world you live on my dears ones has a soul. It is a living being just like you are. It too is on its journey to perfection where it too will one day exist in my spiritual spheres away from the coarseness of matter at this level of progress where you all now exist. Mother Earth as you call her is truly the cradle that nurtures all living beings that walk and crawl upon her surface. Planet earth or mother earth as she is called by many, needs to progress just as you do. She is waiting very patiently for the souls of mankind to mature through the physical experiences that they have in their bodies whilst on the earth plane.

Mankind was meant to respect mother earth who gives them their physical bodies and the food that their bodies require while they have their physical experiences. But mankind has not respected mother earth. Through man's greed and quest for power and domination over their brothers and sisters, they have misused mother earth and the vast array of resources that I, your heavenly father Jesus have placed within her. Man's quest for power and technological progress has poison mother earth.

Some of the weapons that have now been developed have the ability to change the weather on the planet. The scientists who invent these weapons are not aware of the impact that these weapons are having on the core of mother earth. The rays that these weapons send out up into the atmosphere bounce off the stratosphere and ionosphere and return back to earth and deeply penetrate into the depths our beautiful planet mother earth. These rays have an adverse effect on the internal organs of the planet. Yes, my dears ones, the planet does have organs much the same way that you do my children, deep within the planet below the crust. These organs, notably the liver and spleen of the planet are being affected by these weapons. The liver and spleen of mother earth act in very much the same way that your own liver and spleen work in your human bodies. The liver cleans the toxins and the spleen acts as a final purifier of the blood. In mother earth, the spleen is located beneath San Francisco in the United States of America, some 3,500 miles beneath the surface, that is, approximately 4,800 kilometres beneath the surface. This spleen area beneath the surface has a lot of porous material within it like a mixture of pumice and shale. The water you find on the surface of earth is connected by a myriad of tunnel type of channels that flow from the surface of the planet down into the planet into various organs of the planet such as the spleen. The job of the spleen is to cleanse various toxins and pollutants that occur on the surface of the planet through natural and man-made causes. The problem that mankind now faces is that the many man-made chemicals that man has created have up until now been cleansed by organs within the earth such as the spleen and liver. But these organs were never designed by me to deal with the huge volume of pollutants that mankind is now creating that find their way into the rivers, lakes and oceans of the world. The natural cleansing mechanism of mother earth's spleen and liver can no longer cope with the stress that mankind's activities are having on her.

The damage that the weather machine weapons are doing on the inside of this beautiful planet, as well as the impact that mankind's pollution is having on earth are making it very sick. Mankind is ignorant of the effect that they are having on this planet. Mother earth or planet earth will need to cleanse itself abruptly if the normal natural cleansing organs deep within the earth can no longer cope with the volume of toxic pollutants that the planet's spleen and liver must deal with. This cleansing is something that will come from deep within the core of the planet. It will be something that mankind will not be expecting. It will take the world by surprise. It will take the form of a shifting of the tectonic plates on the earth and will realign many of the boundaries between the various continental shelves. Some lands that are currently below the seas will rise once again out of the oceans. Similarly, some of your existing large cities will become totally submerged in the near future.

Many of my children will say at that time that this was a great judgement on my part. Yes, it will be a great judgement for the children living on the earth at that point in time, but it is not a judgement that comes from me. These events will occur due to mankind's ignorance of nature and the effects that their industrial pollution has had on the planet's normal ability to cleanse itself through its spleen and liver which can no longer cope with the volume of contaminants that it has to deal with. This shifting of the tectonic plates will also result in much volcanic activity on the surface of the planet.

Mankind is not aware of the delicate balance that everything is in. They have blindly cut down many of the great forests and contaminated the soils and water on the planet. This has commenced a cycle now that is irreversible. There will continue to be great storms and cyclones or hurricanes on the planet. There will also be even greater flooding and poor weather. The extremes of weather will become more pronounced. All these things are not caused by me my dear one's, but solely through mankind's greed and pursuit of power and domination over their brothers and sisters. All this will result in the loss of many lives and much suffering in the near future.

I cannot interfere with mankind's free will to cause all this damage, but I can have an effect on reducing the length and severity of these events through sincere prayers. Pray for your brothers and sisters that are suffering now and when these events occur in the near future. Your sincere prayers from your heart will enable me to apply my divine mercy to reduce the length and severity of mankind's greed on mother nature. In this way, your prayers will enable me to alleviate the suffering of many in tough and challenging days to come.

For those of my children who have been wondering, the liver of mother earth is located directly above the south pole in Antarctica. The south pole is also the rectum of the planet where it expels, through a tunnel like passage that comes out to the surface of the planet near the south pole, all the unused food and waste that the planet consumes. You might then ask me, what does the planet consume ? What is it's food ? The answer my dear one's is the chilly cold ice and air on the north pole. There too at the north pole, is a tunnel or entrance into the planet which represents its mouth. As planet earth rotates on its axis, it creates a magnetic field around the planet. That magnetic field creates electrical discharges in the stomach of the planet which is located deep within the planet close to the core. The rotation of the planet daily draws in the cold icy air on the north pole and draws this into the planet's stomach where electrical discharges in the stomach turn the cold icy air into the various nutrients that the planet requires for its sustenance. Yes, the planet is a living being. Any remaining air or nutrients that are not taken up by the stomach are expelled out of the rectum near the south pole.

There are many of your scientists that are aware that plane earth is a living being including the fact that there are entrances into the planet on the north and south pole. Many governments have their research stations near these entrances where they conduct various experiments to determine the timeframes between various ice ages and the current impact of mankind's activities on mother earth. But they search in vain as the impact that man has had on the planet has commenced an irreversible impact on the worlds weather which will only stabilise itself once mother earth has cleansed herself from within.

My dear children, the tough times ahead cannot be altered by me in my omnipotence. I must not interfere in man's free will, even if this free will of man has acted in complete ignorance and has created an ecological catastrophe that will soon become apparent with the escalation of extreme weather events. This is the price for advancement of technology and industry for the pursuit of profit and greed. As has been the case in all of human history, many will suffer as a result of the greed of but a few. I do not want you to think, my dear ones, that I wish to see any of my children suffer however, should I interfere and correct the ecological errors that were made to the planet, mankind's path to perfection would be greatly impeded as those who continue to make excessive profits with no concern for their brothers and sisters would never learn from their errors and would continue to be arrogant and selfish to their last breath.

Everything that occurs on this planet my dear ones, occurs for a purpose. As I have said in my previous messages, nothing occurs by chance. So it is also with mankind's damage of the ecology of mother earth. Once mother earth has cleansed herself of all the pollution and toxins that mankind has caused, the people of the future will realise how absolutely ignorant mankind was in this period in not understanding the delicate balance that every living being is in. The people of the future will be far more caring of the planet and will have me their good shepherd Jesus living with them, to teach them and guide them on their journey to perfect their souls during their final test lives on earth to prepare them for eternal bliss and happiness with me in my heavens. – Amen.
